

ASRM program funding in jeopardy

BY TRACI BONNEY
The future of the Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) program hangs in the balance as Congress debates whether or not to fund it. Most of the program's funding was cut earlier this week in a vote from Congress that surprised many, but the Senate Appropriations Committee approved a proposal from Sen. Thad Cochran to provide monies for the operations and construction of the ASRM plant in Iuka. Cochran said the committee approved $50 million "to keep the project underway until we can resolve this issue with the House. We think we're going to achieve success." The House of Representatives passed an amendment 249-159 Wednesday to cancel the program, with Rep. Gene Taylor casting one of the votes against the amendment. The amendment was offered by Rep. Wayne Owens, D-Utah, in whose district the solid rocket motors now in use are made. A Senate appropriations subcommittee backed the House's vote Thursday, but the full committee reversed that decision later in the day. Lon Miller, director of the ASRM program at Stennis, had been on vacation during the week. He told reporters Thursday he did not know Congress was considering out-and-out termination of the program, and that his contacts at the program's headquarters indicated prospects for saving ASRM are "pretty bleak." The program currently employs almost 200 people at Stennis.

Cochran, however, doesn't share the view of ASRM officials about the program's future. "We were encouraged today, particularly in view of the last couple of days that have put this project in jeopardy. The unexpected amendment offered in the House of Representatives dealt a very serious setback to the project, but the program is now back on track. We can continue to negotiate with the Administration and with the House to get the funding problem solved."

Phone call tells of more than winnings

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Dale Leard of Cedar Point was surprised Friday when a woman who telephoned with news of a cash winning abruptly disconnected the call after he refused to give her his Visa and Master Card account numbers. "She hung the phone right up," Leard related. He reported the call to the Bay St. Louis Police Department and then to The Sea Coast Echo. Leard warned, "She said, 'We are working your area,' meaning Bay St. Louis." According to Leard, he received a phone call shortly after 9 a.m. A woman, whom he said sounded to be in her early to mid-twenties, told him he was a grand prize winner. She reportedly said the prize was superior to any given away on popular television shows, and he was to receive $569 immediately, along with 10 Schaeffer pen and pencil sets for distribution to his business and personal acquaintances. Leard said, "The woman was very nice-speaking but she spoke very quickly. Every time I tried to get a question in, she covered it up with talk of the prizes I won." "She told me to write down a secret code number which was to be given to the special delivery messenger, who would be bringing me the cash check. "She kept referring to this $569 check I supposedly won, and how it was sitting on her desk, in front of her. "Finally she said, 'I want you to do something for me and get your Visa and Master Card and give me your account numbers and the expiration dates for each.' "When I said no, she hung up that quick." Moore golfers

Family sport earns money, trophies

BY TRACI BONNEY
Sixteen-year-old Laura Moore of Diamondhead plans to swing her way to college and beyond. Laura, one of three golfers in her immediate family, was junior medalist at the Women's Trans National Golf Association's 62nd annual championship in Pinehurst, North Carolina, July 13-18. She has played golf for only three years. "My dad and sister play the game. I guess I just picked it up from them," she commented. The Trans National, or "Trans" to those familiar with it, was quite an experience for the young golfer. The tournament, one of the qualifiers for the Curtis Cup team, has seen many players who later turned professional, including Nancy Lopez, Kathy Whitworth, Beth Daniel, Mickey Walker, Patti Rizzo, Amy Benz, Cindy Figg-Currier, Sherri Steinhauer, Pearl Sinn, Nancy Bowen and Karen Noble. More than 140 golfers participated in this year's event. Laura was one of seven junior players; her older sister Natalie also played in the tournament. Natalie was a runner-up in the 1988 Alabama State Junior tournament, and state champion the following year. A newlywed, she currently attends the University of Alabama at Birmingham on a golf scholarship. Laura, also a veteran junior player, shot a 76 and an 80 to qualify for the championship flight before being defeated by Jessica Wood of North Carolina. Playing Wood was no small feat in itself, since Laura's handicap was 6.1 and Wood's was 4.9. In addition, Wood was a three-year member of the University of North Carolina's golf team.

Of the tournament, Laura said, "I didn't know quite what to expect out of it." She won the Dorothy Pease Award, given to the junior medalist. She was given a crystal vase to keep and a huge silver trophy for this year, on the base of which her name will be engraved.

In most tournaments she's played, she has had to carry her own bag. This time she had a caddy—her father Jimmy, better known to many in the county as the postmaster at the Hwy. 90 post office. "Jimmy caddied for Laura, teacher at North Bay Elementary school, explained that her charges are children who contend with learning, physical and social disadvantages and "normal" kids who simply enjoy the program.

"One of the purposes of the program is to get the kids out in the community and have them do things that "normal" kids would ordinarily do," she said.

The group, and its summer camp program was started four years ago. The camp, six weeks long, is free of charge and is funded by the United Way. It was conceived by Salaun and Ann Ladner. It operates three days a week.

Parents interested in arranging a spot in the camp for the children next year are invited to contact Linda Salaun at 467-7538 or Ann Ladner at 467-6254.

Casino Magic plans September opening

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Chambers members were told that Casino Magic, Hancock County's first licensed gaming venture, will open in September.

Al Kokesch, general manager of Casino Magic's Bay Cove gaming development, now under construction, was not specific as to the exact date, but said the opening would be in September.

He did indicate construction was underway around the clock, while addressing the July Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition.

"There should be some 450 employees for the Phase I opening in September and Casino Magic will be open 24-hours-a-day, 365 days a year," Kokesch reported.

Kokesch added, "We are going to bring a lot of people into the area, as we are working a 400-500 mile radius. Help will also be needed from the area's motels, restaurants, tourist attractions, etc., to take care of the visitors."

Casino Magic will offer all types of gaming, slot machines from 5¢ up with the majority being 25¢ and $1.

Blackjack, roulette, craps, poker, pai gow poker, baccarat, keno video poker and more is to be offered at Casino Magic, Kokesch said.

Two dealer schools conducted by Casino Magic has 150 students and a third is to start on August 3rd.

Applications at Casino Magic is about 3,000-4,000 Kokesch stated, and more are still being taken.

Marlin Torguson, president of Casino Magic, spoke about the golf course which is under construction at Bay Cove.

"It will take two years to build and will be a professional championship course. We plan to attract some major tournaments," Torguson said.

One area where Casino Magic needs help is in procuring signs on Interstate 10 at the 606 and 607 intersections, Kokesch said, as they have already been requested by the gaming industry.

The Morning Edition was held at the Mississippi Power Company's auditorium and sponsored by Mississippi Power.

Coast Business Journal, Coast Magazine bought

Coast Business Journal and Coast Magazine have been bought by a group of Coast businessmen: Dan Mortimer and Fred May, partners in Gulf Coast Fabrication at Port Bienvenue; and John Dane III, president of Gulfport-based Trinity Marine Group.

The transaction was approved July 21 by U.S. Bankruptcy Judge Edward Gaines.

Coast Magazine Corp., which owned the publications, has been operating in Chapter 11 under the U.S. bankruptcy code since mid-May.

Neil White, founder and principal owner of Coast Magazine Corp., will not be involved in the publications in any capacity. He is working for New Orleans magazine.

Coast Business Journal, a bi-weekly business publication that focuses on the three Coast counties, has continued uninterrupted during the bankruptcy and the financial crisis that preceded it. It will continue as it has in the past, except without White.

"Now that the cloud of financial uncertainty has been removed, we can concentrate on and improve our product," said George Lammons, CBJ editor.

The future of Coast Magazine, on the other hand, is uncertain. The magazine has not been published since the Spring 1992 issue. White and considered changing the magazine's format after the financial crisis hit the company in April, but the new owners have not decided whether to continue it.

"There are very compelling and good arguments for the continuation of this project. The fact that the government has invested such a sizeable amount of money in this plant and this site is a very strong argument in favor of continuing the ASRM facility and program.

"Other persuasive arguments in favor of continuing the project are safety and the efficiency in our space program."

and I followed Natalie around the course," said her mother Cheryl.

Laura said her dad, like most caddies, offers advice from time to time.

Iva May McDonald of Bay St. Louis, herself a past player in several Trans tournaments, commented in a telephone interview, "Laura did a beautiful job in the tournament. Pinewild is a very difficult course, but she held her own."

McDonald, president of the WTNGA in 1987-1988 and a member of the board for 20 years, said she secured the invitations for Laura and Natalie to the Trans and the Women's West golf tournaments, which use handicap as basis for qualifying to enter.

McDonald and the Moores are not the only local links to the Trans National. The tournament itself was held at the Diamondhead Country Club in 1979; and former Sea Coast Echo owner Joan Glass, now living in Virginia, also is a WTNGA board member.

In addition, the two Mississippians to win Trans Member Club Pins last year both were local golfers: Terry Scott of Diamondhead and Perk Landry of Pass Christian.

Parker stated, "We haven't had a case since last year. At that time they were approaching people door to door."

He said the department has begun a case number on this incident and if anyone else receives such a phone call they should let the Bay St. Louis Police know so an investigation can be conducted.

"People must beware of anyone asking for check and charge card numbers," Parker added. "Use the same precaution with charge receipts and carbons, for these can be used against the owner as well."

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

What should you do if you receive a telephone call telling you that you have just won, been awarded, or selected to receive some type of prizes from a stranger?

Most law officials will tell you to hang up the telephone, because you are probably being set up for a scam.

Only this past week a resident received such a call, and before he knew it the caller was wanting his credit card numbers.

Law officers will tell you to never give your credit card number over the telephone to someone who calls you.

Before a person ever gives his credit card number or gives someone a check or cash for some item or service, he should have the party checked out to make sure it is not a scam.

Scam-artists make it very hard for those trying to do a legitimate business.

If every you have any doubt about some offer, I suggest you call the Hancock Sheriff's office or the Bay St. Louis or Waveland police department, as it is better to be safe than sorry.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Congress must look out for America

As someone who has worked in the manufacturing sector, I am deeply disturbed that America's manufacturing base is rapidly deteriorating.

Because the needs of our manufacturing sector are not being addressed by either the Administration or Congress, America's ability to provide jobs for our children and the future defense of our country is in jeopardy.

Unfortunately, a majority of the Members of Congress are in agreement with the Administration when they continue to pass legislation that encourages American industry to pick up and go to places like Mexico, Chile and Canada.

For example, just recently, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) came to Congress and requested several research vessels. The Administration wants to take American taxpayers' dollars, $1.2 billion to be exact, to build these ships overseas. Furthermore, many of these overseas shipyards are subsidized by their government and their government is a recipient of U.S. foreign aid.

How can we justify sending business to subsidized foreign shipyards that depend on U.S. dollars to stay afloat, at a time when America has lost 300,000 shipbuilding jobs over the past 10 years.

Additionally, Congress has appropriated about $4 billion in the Strategic Sealift program to build sealift ships. The ships are used to resupply our troops quickly and efficiently anywhere in the world in the event of war.

Once again, the Administration wants to go overseas to buy these ships rather than building them in America. Bit by bit we are giving away the American dream.

While the cost of doing business in America continues to go up, making it more difficult for Americans to compete with their foreign competitors, the Administration is saying don't worry, we can build it in foreign countries for free and not pay any taxes to bring it back.

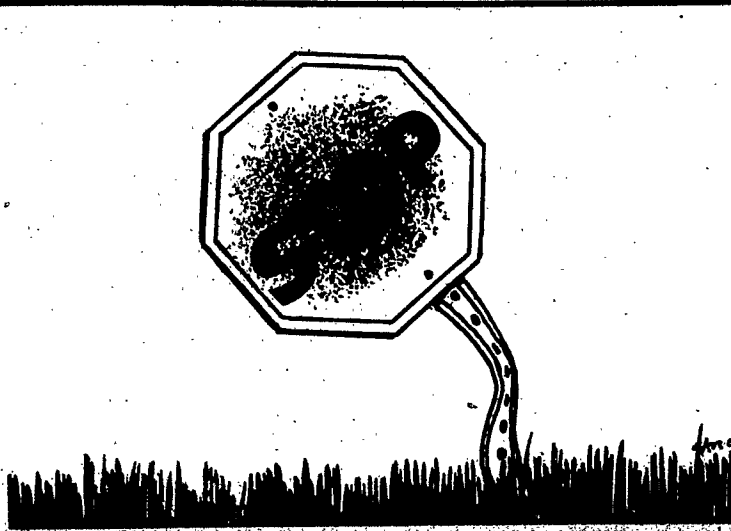

Add all these variables and the results equal the loss of hundreds of thousands of jobs. And the Administration wants to spend taxpayers' money overseas?

These horrible policies affect all South Mississippians. The loss of the garment, steel and electronics industry, jeopardizes our children's future and our nation's defense. Put all the jobs lost in just these few industries that directly affect Mississippians and it is very easy to see why our nation has eight percent unemployment.

It is also very easy to see why we need a change of heart in our Administration so we can begin to look out for America instead of everyone else.

VANDALIZED SIGNS CAN CAUSE ACCIDENTS OR EVEN DEATH

No one wants to be responsible for injury to a motorist...but that's what can happen when highway signs are vandalized or destroyed. Motorists depend on road signs to safely drive the highways.

In addition, it costs taxpayers a great deal of money to repair or replace these vandalized signs. Be a responsible citizen and don't vandalize highway signs. You could be instrumental in saving a motorist from injury or even death.

Don't vandalize, please!

Redefining roles

An issue of importance in Mississippi is the shrinking national defense budget and what impact it will have on our National Guard and Reserve units.

Unfortunately, the Pentagon has asked for Guard and Reserve cuts that are both too large and too soon. They have asked for a 102,000-troop reduction which the Senate Armed Services Committee countered with a 28,000 reduction proposal. Either cut could have immediate effect on our hometown force, and that is why we must highlight the superiority and versatility of Mississippi troops.

Mississippi has without doubt one of the proudest and most elite Guard and Reserve forces in the nation. With a 15,000-plus Guard and 5,000-plus Reserve, we had more troops per capita than any other state engaged in Operation Desert Storm. And, the Mississippi Air National Guard flew the very first sortie mission of the Mid East War.

The current reduction of our active-duty units emphasizes the need to maintain, not cut, our National Guard and Reserve. To hastily cut across the board will jeopardize the security of the United States. It would also prove to be very costly—history shows us that it is easier to maintain a strong defense than rebuild one.

What I would like to see is an expanded role for the Guard and Reserve beyond just a peace keeping force.

The National Guard and Reserve can be used for the new battle—the war on drugs. Drug efforts from already-placed, well-trained and war-proven troops can help to give policemen and -women time to redirect their efforts and develop new strategies to whip drugs. Mississippi is already leading the way in this area with the drug academy in Meridian, which helps to train local enforcement and Guard and Reserve in drug interdiction tactics.

Also, Mississippi forces can be used on a larger scale for natural disaster response and other community rescue projects such as fire fighting and medical crises.

And how about this for a new role—let the Guard and Reserve help run prison boot camps. We could use the Cold War victory training techniques of the U.S. military and apply discipline and health toward rehabilitation prisoners.

Redefining the role of the National Guard and Reserve is not just a local issue either. It must be addressed by each of the other 49 states, and hopefully Mississippi can serve as a model to do so.

A fallen Soviet Union and powerful military are not causes to cut our non-active troops without rhyme and reason. We must be smarter than that and allow our National Guard and Reserve to continue serving this nation with intelligent and retrained troops.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Reaganomics caused legalized gambling

Why there has been an explosion of legalized gambling in various forms—lottery, bingo, riverboat, floating casino, video poker etc.—in states all over the country since the 1980s can in no small measure be traced to what is known as Reaganomics.

When Ronald Reagan became president in 1981, he began to drastically cut back on sharing of federal tax revenues with the states. But at the same time, he began shifting the responsibility for funding many programs from the federal government to the states.

Financially strapped, and flying into the face of an anti-tax hysteria fanned by the Reagan Administration, the states and local governments had to search elsewhere for new sources of revenue. Legalized gambling became one of the viable options.

Even Bible-belt Mississippi had to start looking at the possibilities of cashing in on gambling revenues. (Remember Ray Mabus' narrowly losing bid for a lottery in 1990 as the funding base for his education program?)

From just a handful of states in the early and mid-80s, the number of states which have legalized lotteries escalated to 35 in 1991. Now Mississippi is waiting in the wings to join the lottery states if voters approve as expected in November.

But even before the lottery arrives here, games of chance with the imprimatur of law are going to be off and running in Mississippi. Within the next two to three weeks, slots will be whirring, roulette wheels will be spinning on the first three riverboat gaming casinos docked at Biloxi.

Mississippi's Legislature had opened the way for dockside floating casinos along the Mississippi River and on the Gulf Coast under legislation passed in 1990 and expanded in 1991. Now the Mississippi scene has become a hot ticket in the riverboat gaming industry because under state law the boats do not have to move away from the dock, or even have an engine.

What is also attracting riverboat operators—two from Iowa for instance that have just relocated in Biloxi—is Mississippi's no-limit betting stakes.

Significantly, the two Iowa Boats—the Diamond Lady and the Emerald Lady—are state of the art vessels fully capable of cruising, and are U.S. Coast Guard certified. Biloxi's third gaming riverboat, The President, a spanking new luxury craft built at Jennings, La., is being docketed at Broadwater Beach Hotel. In all, six boats will be opened by January.

Floating casinos, to get clearance by the Mississippi Gaming Commission, must either be Coast Guard certified, or certified by the American Bureau of Shipping as meeting stability and safety standards of an ocean-going barge. Its a lot more expensive to get Coast Guard certification because the vessel's engines must be in readiness, it must maintain a full crew, with lifeboats, life jackets, and related gear.

A vast majority of Mississippi's dockside casinos will be of the barge-type ABS-certified, state gaming commission authorities say.

Bingo, which has been legal in Mississippi for charitable and veterans organizations to operate, is about to go high-tech starting in October when a new law passed by the 1992 Legislature putting bingo under the state gaming commission goes into effect.

It permits operation of video bingo terminals, computerized machines practically identical to video poker machines, except programmed for bingo, which will spit out a tape that winners can cash in.

If Mississippi gets into the lottery, it's likely that the state will go to the VLT—the video lottery terminal—system which is being used with great success in Oregon and several other states, substantially increasing lottery profits for the state. Again, VLT is a machine with a computer brain that's tied into a central computer in the state gaming control office.

It can be programmed for a big jackpot, or for instant winners, using a tape printout for the player to collect.

Because of its ambivalence about getting into the gambling business, the Legislature had put gaming regulation under the three-member State Tax Commission until July 1, 1993 when a new governor-appointed gaming commission is supposed to take over.

Former state Rep. Ed Buelow of Vicksburg, who was recently appointed by Governor Fordice as chairman of the Tax Commission, reportedly will ask the next Legislature to change the gaming law and leave gaming control under the tax commission.

Building an urban center

Mississippi, like all states, is engaged in a constant effort to attract new and expanding industries. And, like those other states, our success or failure in that effort is dependent on several factors.

Those factors vary along a wide spectrum—from availability of a skilled workforce to access to decent schools, from proximity to major markets to attractive tax incentives, from fair governmental regulations to a state that is simply eager to do business.

Another factor that can enter into the picture these days is the existence of a major urban center; and this is an area where Mississippi is lacking. To be truthful, we do have major urban centers—but they aren't in Mississippi.

Memphis, New Orleans and Mobile are Mississippi's major urban centers. These are the big cities that attract business and industry, that attract our college graduates to bigger salaries and job potential.

We aren't far from having a vibrant, forward-looking urban center in Mississippi. Our capital city of Jackson, with its colleges and graduate schools, its performing arts and its growing reputation as a transportation hub, has much to offer. The Gulf Coast is growing as an international port of entry and is well located for further growth. Both areas have great potential, and the continued development of one of them should be a priority with the state.

And, it shouldn't be a matter of regional competition and jealousy. It should be a matter of doing what is best for the state.

An expanding urban center means economic development and that means good news for the people of Mississippi.

It takes a little effort NOT to throw our litter out the window and so much effort and expense to pick it up again.

New law impacts retirement fund distributions

By Janet K. Lukens

Area consumer money management specialist

The unemployment bill signed in July, 1992 contains changes that will greatly affect retirement fund distributions to workers changing employers, losing their jobs or retiring.

In order to finance extended unemployment benefits, a 20 percent withholding requirement will be imposed on lump-sum pension distributions made after 1992.

This 20 percent reduction in the retirement distribution will be applied unless the money is left with the employee's retirement plan or transferred directly to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or other qualified retirement plan. An employee with $10,000 in a retirement account will actually receive $8,000.

Proponents of the change say it will be a strong incentive for individuals to keep retirement money in retirement accounts rather than spending the money. It is certainly true that the majority of individuals I see changing employers or being laid off, simply spend the money on current living expenses.

Statistics also show that most younger and lower-paid workers do not reinvest lump-sum retirement distributions. In most of these circumstances, the taxpayer is hit with federal and state income tax plus a 10 percent federal tax penalty for early withdrawal of retirement funds.

In many cases, the individual does not realize the extent of this tax bill until time to file the past year's income taxes, well after all the money has been spent. The new provisions will ensure that much of the tax bill has already been collected in such situations.

However, opponents of the law indicate that the changes could actually encourage current spending of lump-sum distributions rather than discourage them thus forfeiting retirement dollars that should be set aside for future needs.

They say terminating employment is disruptive experience and the individual should not be forced to immediately make decisions about transferring or leaving retirement money in the old employer's account.

Currently, an employee entitled to a retirement distribution has the option of receiving the entire distribution. If the funds are deposited into an IRA within 60 days from the postmark date on the envelope, they continue to grow tax-deferred until retirement years.

The new law will mean that those receiving a retirement distribution then making a qualified rollover into an IRA, must come up with the missing 20 percent withholding in order to continue tax-deferred treatment of the entire account.

A refund of the withholding amount will be made when income tax returns are filed and a tax refund is distributed. Many individuals experiencing an employment transition do not have enough cash available to make up the 20 percent difference.

If the individual does not make up the difference within the 60-day rollover period, the 20 percent withholding will be treated as a taxable distribution.

If you receive a lump-sum retirement distribution after 1992, decisions regarding use of the money should be made prior to the distribution and probably with the assistance of your investment or tax advisors.

If the distribution is due to a layoff or change of employers, beware of receiving a distribution that will be significantly depleted by taxes and penalties and could later jeopardize your ability to adequately prepare for retirement.

Satanic rituals explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following excerpt from a July 30 article on occult awareness had several of the following paragraphs transposed in composition. The Sea Coast Echo regrets the error.

SATANIC RITUALS

Touching briefly on rituals performed by Satanists, she said there are three basic types: the sexual, the compassionate and the destructive.

Most people understand the first and third ones, she said, but "I get this all the time: 'How can those people be compassionate?'"

"What it means in this case is: for example, one of the members wants good fortune or prosperity, so the members do a ritual or say an incantation to bring it about, to benefit themselves.

"What they're doing is making a demand, whereas when we pray, we're making a request, then we're supposed to wait in faith for God's answer. Sometimes the answer is 'no.' But we are supposed to ask and wait."

She said there are several theories of the origins of Satanism, including rebellion by peasant servants against their wealthy Catholic landowners in the Church's early days; the individual's belief that such a big God wouldn't deal with him, so he needed a lesser god to get what he wanted done; and a heresy which developed in the 1500s called dualism, which claims that God and Satan are good and evil brothers. Satanists who adhere to this theory believe that at the end of the world, God and the Antichrist will battle and Satan will win.

Blaize-Watson explained that just as Satanists will abuse the Bible for their purposes, so will they reverse or pervert other Christian traditions. For example, she said, many sacrifices occur at 3 a.m. because biblical tradition holds that Jesus died at 3 p.m. on Good Friday.

In addition to speaking of witchcraft and Satanism, the deputy briefly mentioned voodoo and Santeria. She explained that both cults have a mixture of Catholicism and African worship traditions: voodoo mixes

French Catholic and African, while Santeria mixes Spanish Catholic with African.

She said one good thing about those who practice Santeria is they don't recruit, but tend to keep it in their families.

Going back to Satanism, she explained why it catches the attention of law officers.

"Satanists start to do things that break the Ten Commandments, and the Ten Commandments are what the laws of our land, the civil and criminal laws, are based on. That's where we come in as law enforcement officers."

One thing Satanists won't do, she said, is warn their victims beforehand.

The deputy asked how many people had heard the "blond-haired/blue-eyed child sacrifice at Halloween" rumor.

"That sweeps the country every year," she commented. "A true Satanist is not going to put a note in somebody's locker. If you're going to be their victim, chances are you'll be the last one to know."

H. Hester Plauché

Republican Candidate

For

Representative District 93

Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone Counties

I am running for the House of Representatives, because I believe we must address the serious problems facing each of us. Problems in areas such as Economic Development, Education, and Law Enforcement are only a few of the major issues facing our state. We must improve in these areas so that our children will inherit a better and stronger Mississippi.

I am running for the House of Representatives, because I believe we need a Legislature that is responsive to its people, a Legislature that empowers the people of our state and not the politicians. We must give our citizens the strongest voice in our Government.

I am running for the House of Representatives, because I believe that my business background combined with my involvement in the school district and several local civic organizations have given me an insight to the needs of our people. Our Government can do better and I want to help make our State government more efficient and responsible. Vote for H. Hester Plauché and your vote will be a vote for the people's voice in Jackson.

"The Wound Care/Hyperbaric Medicine Unit at Gulf Coast Medical Center is more than just a long name for a hospital department. It means results."

Dr. Paul G. Matherne, Medical Director, The Wound Care/Hyperbaric Medicine Unit, Gulf Coast Medical Center

Gulf Coast Medical Center continues its commitment of comprehensive medical care with our expansion of Wound Care/Hyperbaric Medicine.

In a hyperbaric chamber, we're able to create an atmosphere of pure oxygen and increased atmospheric pressure in order to hasten the body's natural healing process.

Hyperbaric treatments are often recommended for

- Chronic wounds that won't heal
- External limb ulcers
- Recurring infections
- Bone infections
- Brown recluse spider bites
- Carbon monoxide poisoning (smoke inhalation)

GCMC was the first hospital to introduce this specialized healthcare on the Coast, and we're expanding our capabilities with a comprehensive wound management center, providing treatment and recovery services in coordination with your physician's orders. We think that's important. And so does Dr. Matherne.

For additional information call our Wound Care/Hyperbaric Medicine Unit at 388-0288.

Hancock County Lions Club

On Saturday, July 25, the Hancock County Lions Club held installation of new officers for 1992-93. Also on the program was the celebration of Lions International's 75th anniversary.

Guest speaker was Congressman Gene Taylor.

Past District Governor Greg Crapo gave the history of Lions International for the past 75 years.

Past International Director B. M. Stone was the installing officer. New officers are Raymond Rome, president; Wanda Berthelot, first vice-president; Charles Berthelot, second vice-president; Russell Sutton, third vice-president;

Eula Rome, secretary; Judith Poolson, treasurer; Samuel Elanchard, tail twister; John Poolson, lion tamer; Michael Adams, Darlene Bergens, Judith Poolson, Cynthia Adams, board members; Lucille Boudreaux, ex-officio; John Sutton, Valarie Sutton, and Russell Sutton, membership committee.

Two new members were inducted into the Lions Club. They are Darlene Bergens and Jane Thornton.

Awards and certificates of appreciation were presented. Russell Sutton was named Lion of the Year. Raymond Rome received a 15-year Chevron for service to Lionism.

A buffet and cake were enjoyed by guests.

Lions Club seeks old eyeglasses

Have you gotten a new pair of eyeglasses and don't know what to do with your old ones? Here's a hint.

Lions Clubs International is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year. It plans to collect and distribute one million pairs of old eyeglasses this year alone.

Call the Hancock County Lions Club at 467-7943 to donate your old eyeglasses.

Best Ever Reunion

All Bay High alumni/students invited

The Bay High Athletic Club is coordinating a reunion of all persons who attended Bay High School between 1920 and 1988, according to chairman Hubert Cowand.

A three-day event is planned September 18-20 at Diamondhead Country Club and Yacht Club. Various activities are priced separately.

Kicking off the weekend is a "Get Reacquainted Party" in the Terrace Room at Diamondhead Country Club, 7:30 p.m. until midnight. Hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be featured, admission $12.

Saturday at 11:30 a.m. there will be a "Yacht Club Lunch" at $10 each.

Two bands will rock the Country Club Saturday night, with music to appeal to all age groups. "Art Cissell and the Stardusters" is a 17-piece ensemble playing the Big Band sounds of Glenn Miller, Count Basie and other popular music from the 30's, 40's and 50's.

"Doctor Rock and the Interns" is an eight-piece classic Rock and Roll band well versed in tunes from the '50's to the '90's.

The Stardusters will play in the Coral Room and Doctor Rock in the Terrace Room, according to Cowand.

A $25 ticket includes admission and hors d'oeuvres.

Saturday night the 50th anniversary class, the Class of 1942, will be honored. Members of the Athletic Club's "Blue, Gold and White Club" will be recognized for their contributions. The class spent more than $27,000 on improvements at high school and stadium.

On Sunday, an informal "Farewell Brunch" is scheduled at the Country Club from 10 a.m. until noon. "Everyone is encouraged to make a speech, a toast, offer a word or two or relate some funny event dating back to school days or since," said Cowand.

For reservations or for additional information, call one of the following: Hubert Cowand, 896-0803; Jimmy Loiacano, 467-4601; J.E. or Coco Loiacano, 467-0594; Clarence Piazza, 467-4822;

Lex Haynes, 467-7099; Claudia Murphy, 467-1991; Donald Ray Jr., 467-3858; or Jim Evans, 467-9861.

Reunion committee

Ryans celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ryan of Bay St. Louis recently celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary with a two-week trip to Lake Tahoe and Las Vegas. They were married June 15, 1947 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and are the parents of six children and nine grandchildren.

Country music talent sought

The True Value Hardware/GMC Truck Country Showdown is coming to Poyune, and WRJW Radio will host the 11th edition of the world's largest country music talent contest and radio promotion.

The showdown is designed to find the most promising country music talent in America and to give these performers a chance to launch their professional careers.

The road to stardom begins

RTC schedules three-day sale

Furniture, fixtures and equipment from nine Savings and Loan institutions goes up for absolute auction next week in Metairie.

The Baton Rouge Office of the Resolution Trust Corporation has ordered the auction of the combined assets in an effort to speed up the liquidation of the now defunct thrifts.

The auction is set for Aug. 13, 14 and 15 with a full day preview scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 12.

Auction items include computers, office furniture, bank equipment and related items. A free brochure is available from contract Auctioneer, Keith Babb & Associates Inc., Monroe, La. by calling toll free (800) 444-6733.

with hometown talent contests sponsored by over 380 radio stations across the country.

The showdown is open to vocal and/or instrumental performers, individuals or groups of up to seven members who have not performed on a record listed in national record charts of billboard, radio and records or the Gavin Report within 18 months preceding competition.

Entry forms are available at Thigpen True Value hardware stores and Levis GM Autoplex, your GMC Truck Dealer or by calling WRJW Radio at 798-4835.

* Hancock Is Still Your #1 Bank.

During the first five months of 1992, more people in south Mississippi financed their cars and trucks through Hancock Bank than any other local or out-of-state Bank. More than the Credit Unions. More than the Savings & Loans. Even more than two of the big three auto manufacturer's credit corporations.

Surprised? You shouldn't be. Hancock Bank has consistently financed more automobiles than any other bank in south Mississippi since the 1930s.

Today you can finance your car through Hancock Bank at more than 30 car dealerships throughout south Mississippi; or at one of more than 30 Hancock Bank branches.

So, if you're thinking of buying a new car or truck, now is the time. The rebates and interest rates have never been better. Just remember, Hancock is your #1 Bank when it comes to auto financing.

Gulf Coast Recycling awarded Apple Computer

Gulf Coast Recycling announced it was selected as one of 100 U.S. organizations working on environmental issues to receive a personal computer system from Environmental Support Center (ESC) in cooperation with Apple Computer, Inc.

Penny Penrose, executive director, said, "Gulf Coast Recycling is a non-profit project offering cost-effective, low-tech recycling services and providing employment for the local poor."

"This computer will increase our working capacity for proposal-writing and community education efforts, as well as enable project employees to increase their repertoire of marketable skills by learning computer skills. GCR will also use the computer to track volume and increase our cost effectiveness."

Jim Abernathy, executive director of ESC, said, "We received nearly 700 applications from groups in all 50 states which demonstrates how sorely the grassroots environmental community needs computer resources. The Apple computer grant will go a long way toward helping these groups strengthen their organizational resources."

Haas-Stockstill

Annunciation Catholic Church was the setting for the June 27 wedding of Sharon Dianne Stockstill and Phillip Justin Haas. Father Peter Blanchard officiated the afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of James and Janice Stockstill of Picayune. The groom is the son of Vernon and Merle Haas of Kiln.

Nuptial music was provided by Alana Meador and Lana Noonan. Verna Haas, sister of the groom, provided the Scripture readings.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline and long camelot sleeves. The fitted bodice was overlaid with pearly and sequined French Alencon lace and the scoop back closed with tiny buttons to the waist. The full skirt featured cutout lace appliques above a hemline border of matching lace and the chapel-length train flowed from a large bow at the back waist.

Her fingertip veil with attached double pouf fell from a headpiece of white roses and pearls.

She carried a bouquet of cascading white silk roses accented with English ivy, pearls, lace and peach roses.

Karen Stockstill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rhonda Stockstill, Brenda Kennedy and Donna Pidcoe.

Flower girl was Erica Adams. Derick Blackwell was ring bearer.

The attendants wore teal-length dresses of peach taffeta with scooped neckline overlaid with lace. They carried bouquets of peach roses.

Charles Haas, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Matt Perkins, David Rogers and Larry Pidcoe.

A reception followed the ceremony at Jourdan River Shores Clubhouse.

Following a honeymoon trip to Panama City, Fla., the couple is residing in Bay St. Louis.

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

They are sworn into their office with their hands placed firmly on the Bible. Every second of their sittings takes place directly under a huge inscription of the ten commandments in unmistakable, outsize letters.

Whenever they pull money out of their well-lined pockets, whether it is in coin or currency, the legal tender proclaims proudly and in bold print: "In God We Trust."

They pledge allegiance to the flag and to the republic for which it stands just as all other American do, through "one nation under God." Yet, their professional stance often seems not just neutral toward but adversary to God.

After they are nominated, but before they are confirmed, they are grilled as to their juridical, political and religious philosophy. Invariably, their ambiguous answers attempt to reflect morality, legal savvy—and distance from God.

In the midst of the frenzied grilling, they make it clear that they respect the constitution, the law, the citizenry; in fact, everything except God and the unborn.

If they survive the grueling ordeal of relentless questioning, they are sworn into their sublime office. Of course, they swear in the name of God with their right hand placed religiously, reassuringly, on the Bible.

That done, the role of the Bible and religion are officially finished in their careers, if not in their lives. The same pro-life, pro-choice issues on which they so skillfully danced during the hearings are now voted on just as expected.

Throughout the lengthy charade of public hearings, scrutiny under legal and moral microscopes, and futile attempts to draw the Supreme Court candidate out, virtually every observer knows his politico-moral leanings anyway.

Predictably, the candidate is confirmed or rejected along liberal/conservative/party lines, often not because of but in spite of what he has concealed so deftly and deviously.

Here, then, is the end product, the well nigh fictitious black-robed creature who joins eight other similar ones in making the most fundamental and crucial pronouncements on life-and-death issues and situations which impact us all.

It is in the hands of such people who were so devious in their confirmation responses that our earthly destiny as a nation and as individuals rests at the legal level. To say the least, this tends to make us quite uneasy skeptics.

How can we have any security or assurance that our best interests will be taken to heart by people who deceive in order to be confirmed for public office? If we think that they waffled, lied to be confirmed, why should we trust them?

Supreme Court charades have been played down through the decades with the American people at large as the sacrificial lambs. Fanatical conservatism or liberalism has taken turns converting our lives into a juridical soap opera.

From the whole context of our Constitution and the Declaration of Independence, it is obvious that the founding fathers of our country intended separation of church and state to be nothing more than a tool guarding personal choice.

By flying on the devious, self-serving wings of political expediency and pragmatism, the U.S. Supreme Court justices are changing a tool of freedom into one of religious ruin.

First Missionary Baptist Church hosts youth week

The First Missionary Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis, will hold its annual Youth Fellowship Week August 3-7.

The theme is Let the Light Shine, with the theme song being "This Little Light of Mine."

Sessions will start 7:30 each night. Speakers for the week are Rev. A. Howard Shephard, New Hope Baptist, Gulfport; Rev. Steve McDaniel, Mt. Calvary Baptist, Lyman; Rev. James Day, Ebenezer Baptist, Gulfport; Rev. Danny Young, Shiloh Baptist, Gulfport; and Rev. Lee Adams Jr., Little Rock Baptist, Gulfport.

Choirs from along the Hancock County and along the Gulf Coast also have been invited to participate.

Pastor of First Missionary Baptist is Rev. William Harper. For more information about the youth week, call Ethel Johnson Harrington at 467-4912 or 467-7642.

Jimmy Blackwood to minister at 1st Assembly

Singer/evangelist Jimmy Blackwood will minister at First Assembly of God in Waveland August 4, 7 p.m.

The church is located at 1912 Arnold Street. The public is invited.

Blackwood, the son of Dr. James Blackwood of the Blackwood Brothers Quartet, has been singing since 1963 and travels in a full-time solo ministry.

According to a press release, Jimmy Blackwood was healed of cancer in March of 1984. The account has been written in Deliverance...In the Valley of Death by Rev. Dan Betzer.

Blackwood has been a guest on TBN, PTL, the 700 Club and many other Christian television programs, and has ministered in many churches across the nation.

He and his family are members of First Assembly of God in Memphis, Tenn.

Many a dangerous temptation comes in fine colors that are but skin-deep.
— Matthew Henry

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
— Matthew 6:13

BAD HABITS MAY BE FUN, BUT WE PAY THE PRICE LATER

Many of us, because of job stress, family problems, or just being "one of the gang," have fallen into the trap of tobacco, alcohol or some other drug, and have become addicted. "I can quit any time I want to," we say, but some of us never seem to want to. "It's fun." "I enjoy it." "It calms my nerves." "It makes me feel happy." Maybe it is fun now, but we will eventually have to pay the price in permanent damage to the heart, lungs, liver, brains, and worst of all, our unborn children. And speaking of children, we should teach them to shun these things, before it's too late. Prevention is a lot easier than trying to stop, once we're "hooked." Your clergyman can be of great help in this situation, so have a talk with him. It's a vital first step.

Public Notices

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Notice is hereby given that a second regular meeting held on Wednesday, July 22nd, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Waveland adopted Ordinance No. 235, said Ordinance contains revisions to the Flood Plain Ordinance being Ordinance No. 175, previously enacted. Said amendments contain the following changes to the existing ordinance:

1. Existing construction is defined as, "A structure for which start of construction was commenced prior to the effective date of the first Flood Plain Ordinance adopted by the City."

2. Existing manufactured home park or subdivision is defined as, "Manufactured home park or subdivision, in which the facilities were completed before the effective date of the first Flood Plain Ordinance adopted by the City."

3. Expansion to an existing manufactured home park or subdivision is defined as, "Preparation of additional sites by construction of new facilities."

4. Definitions of a historic structure have been added to Flood Plain Ordinance.

5. New construction now includes any subsequent improvements to a structure begun after the date of the first Flood Plain Ordinance adopted by the City.

6. A substantial improvement to a structure begins on the actual start of construction of any alteration to a building which affects the external dimensions of the building or not.

7. Substantial damages is defined as the cost of repairs exceeding 50% of the market value of the structure.

8. The same provision is made for existing manufactured home parks and/or subdivisions.

9. The interpretation of this Ordinance shall be that it is a minimum requirement and is construed liberally in favor of the governing body.

10. The building inspector is required to notify the Mississippi Emergency Management Authority prior to an alteration or relocation of a water course.

11. Standards for manufactured homes and recreational vehicles have been added to the Ordinance.

12. All buildings located in coastal high hazard areas, must be constructed one (1) foot above the base flood elevation level.

13. Additional requirements for strengthening and anchoring piling and column foundations have been included.

14. The Ordinance prohibits encroachments including fill material or structures within areas of special flood hazard unless certification by a professional engineer is provided demonstrating that the cumulative effect of the development will not increase the water surface elevation of the base flood more than one (1) foot at any point within the community.

The foregoing summarizes the full text of the amendments to the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance No. 175. I certify that a copy of the amendments have been posted at the City Hall, at the main Public Library in the City of Waveland and at one other public place in accordance with the provisions of Section 21-17-19 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, as amended. Any resident of the municipality will be furnished a copy of the full text of the amendment upon request.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE this 25th day of July, 1992.

SENIOR CITIZEN HAPPENINGS

By Eve McDonald
MEDICARE BUY-IN PROGRAM
 The Qualified Medicare Beneficiary (QMB) program allows low-income seniors and persons with disabilities to avoid the substantial out-of-pocket health costs related to Medicare.

There are an estimated 35,425 Mississippians eligible who have not taken advantage of this program. The buy-in program required Medicaid programs to pay the Medicare premiums ($31.80 month) and deductibles for seniors with incomes below the federal poverty line.

To be eligible for this program a single senior must have income of below $6,810 ($567 per month) and assets (not including home and car) of below $4,000. Couples' income limit is $9,190 ($765 per month) and assets of $6,000. The cost saving for these low income seniors would include the $381.60 per year for Medicare, $100 per year deductible Part B, co-payments of 20 percent to doctors, and the $652 hospital deduction.

To apply for this benefit call the Dept. of Human Services at 467-4555. You may be able to get an application by mail. If you are 65 or over and do not have Medicare, you will have to call the Social Security office at 1-800-772-1213 and ask how to apply for Medicare and QMB benefit.

Savings Bond sales listed

"April sales of U.S. Savings Bonds totaled $96,050 in Hancock County," said Doris Carrio and Eva Smith, Hancock County chairman, U.S. Savings Bonds program.

Sales within the county were $884,246 fiscal year to date. In the State of Mississippi, $36,312,000 were sold fiscal year to date in 1992, while sales throughout the nation reached $6.9 billion for the same period. Since the adoption of market-based interest in November 1982, the total amount of Savings Bonds held by the public increased from $67.8 billion to an all-time high of $143 billion.

For more information contact your local bank.

Delchamps reports earnings

Delchamps reported net earnings for the 52-week fiscal year ended June 27, 1992, were $5,799,000, compared with $15,247,000 for the 52 weeks of the preceding year, a decrease of 62.0 percent. Net earnings per weighted average share outstanding were $.81, a decrease of 62.2 percent from the $2.14 reported last year.

Sales for the year were $949,849,000 compared with last year's sales of $959,169,000, a decrease of 1.0 percent. Same store sales decreased 4.7 percent during the year.

Randy Delchamps, chairman, president and chief executive officer, said, "The past year has been a very tough one for the nation's economy and the supermarket industry and our 1992 results reflect the difficulties of operating in the current economic environment. We did, however, experience positive sales and earnings trends in the latter part of the year and we are confident of a steady recovery in profitability during the 1993 fiscal year."

During the year, six supermarkets, of which three were replacements for smaller stores, were opened and five were remodeled and expanded. At the fiscal year's end, the company operated 115 supermarkets in Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Magna Bancorp reports earnings

Magna Bancorp Inc., the Mississippi-based holding company of Magnolia Federal Bank for Savings, reported consolidated net earnings for the quarter ended June 30, 1992, of $3.7 million ($2.54 per share) bringing net earnings for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1992, to $9.8 million ($6.85 per share).

Net earnings for the quarter and year ended June 30, 1991 were $1.6 million and $4.5 million, respectively. Return on average assets for the year ended June 30, 1992 was 1.03 percent, compared to .50 percent the prior year.

The bank earned net interest income of $13.8 million for the quarter ended June 30, 1992, compared to $10.6 million for the same period a year ago. Net interest income for the year ended June 30, 1992 increased to $49.4 million from $29.9 million for the prior year.

Non-interest income increased to $4.3 million for the quarter ended June 30, 1992 from $3.4 million for the same period a year ago. For the year ended June 30, 1992, a non-interest income increased to $19.0 million from $15.5 million for the prior year.

Loan fees and service fees on deposit contributed significantly to the current quarter's increase along with a gain on sale of securities.

The higher prepayment rate experienced on serviced loans in recent months reduced loan servicing income through increased amortization of the cost of purchased servicing during the current quarter.

LEGAL NOTICE
 Opening of Certain Waters of the Back Bay of Biloxi to Live Salt Shrimp Trawling
 By virtue of the authority vested in the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, under the provisions of §§49-15-15 and 49-7-145, Mississippi Code of 1972, amended, the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks does hereby declare and order that:
 All saltwaters of the Back Bay of Biloxi lying north of the CSX Railroad Bridge and east of the U.S. Interstate Highway 110 bridge that crosses Back Bay, shall be opened to licensed live salt catcher boat trawling between the hours of sunrise and 12:00 noon.
 All other rivers, bays, lakes, streams, canals or tributaries north of the CSX Railroad Bridge, and not specifically mentioned above, shall remain closed to live salt trawling.
 All existing rules and regulations as set forth in Ordinances of the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks governing the catching of live salt shrimp shall be in effect and strictly enforced.
 This order shall take effect and be in force from and after sunrise, Friday, August 7, 1992.
 Ordered this 27th day of July, 1992.
